Measure the Strengths

BLOOMFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

160 BROAD STREET

HARRY M. RICE
Principal

CHARLES E. MORGAN
Vice-Principal

PETER WILSON
Assistant Principal

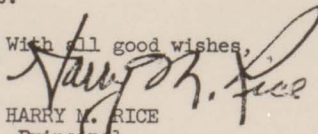

To the Members of the Class of 1961:

The theme of Memories 1961 is one to respect. In our busy age when the urgency of the present tends to cloud our direction and obscure our purpose, it is healthy and it is necessary to lift high our sights and our goals, as did the ancient Greeks. As a former teacher of world history I studied your theme, and my mind wandered back through the centuries and then up the lofty peak that was Grecian civilization. It is gratifying to the principal of a large metropolitan high school to know that the staff of the school yearbook has sifted the culture of the ages and selected so commendable a theme.

I have the sure conviction that you will face up to your responsibilities as citizens of the United States of America in a time of testing of values. We and the free world face the challenge of undemocratic ideology, as did the ancient Greeks, and it is well--it is imperative--that we measure the strengths of our nation. They are patriotism, deep spiritual conviction, a respect of our fellow men, a concern for moral values, and a willingness to give the best of ourselves. These will keep our institutions and our values free, that they may become the great legacy from this generation to the next.

From the ancient Greeks we have received the concept of the perfection of the mind, body and spirit. This concept and this purpose will keep us strong. We owe our country nothing less than our very best.

With all good wishes,

HARRY M. RICE
Principal

In Ideals

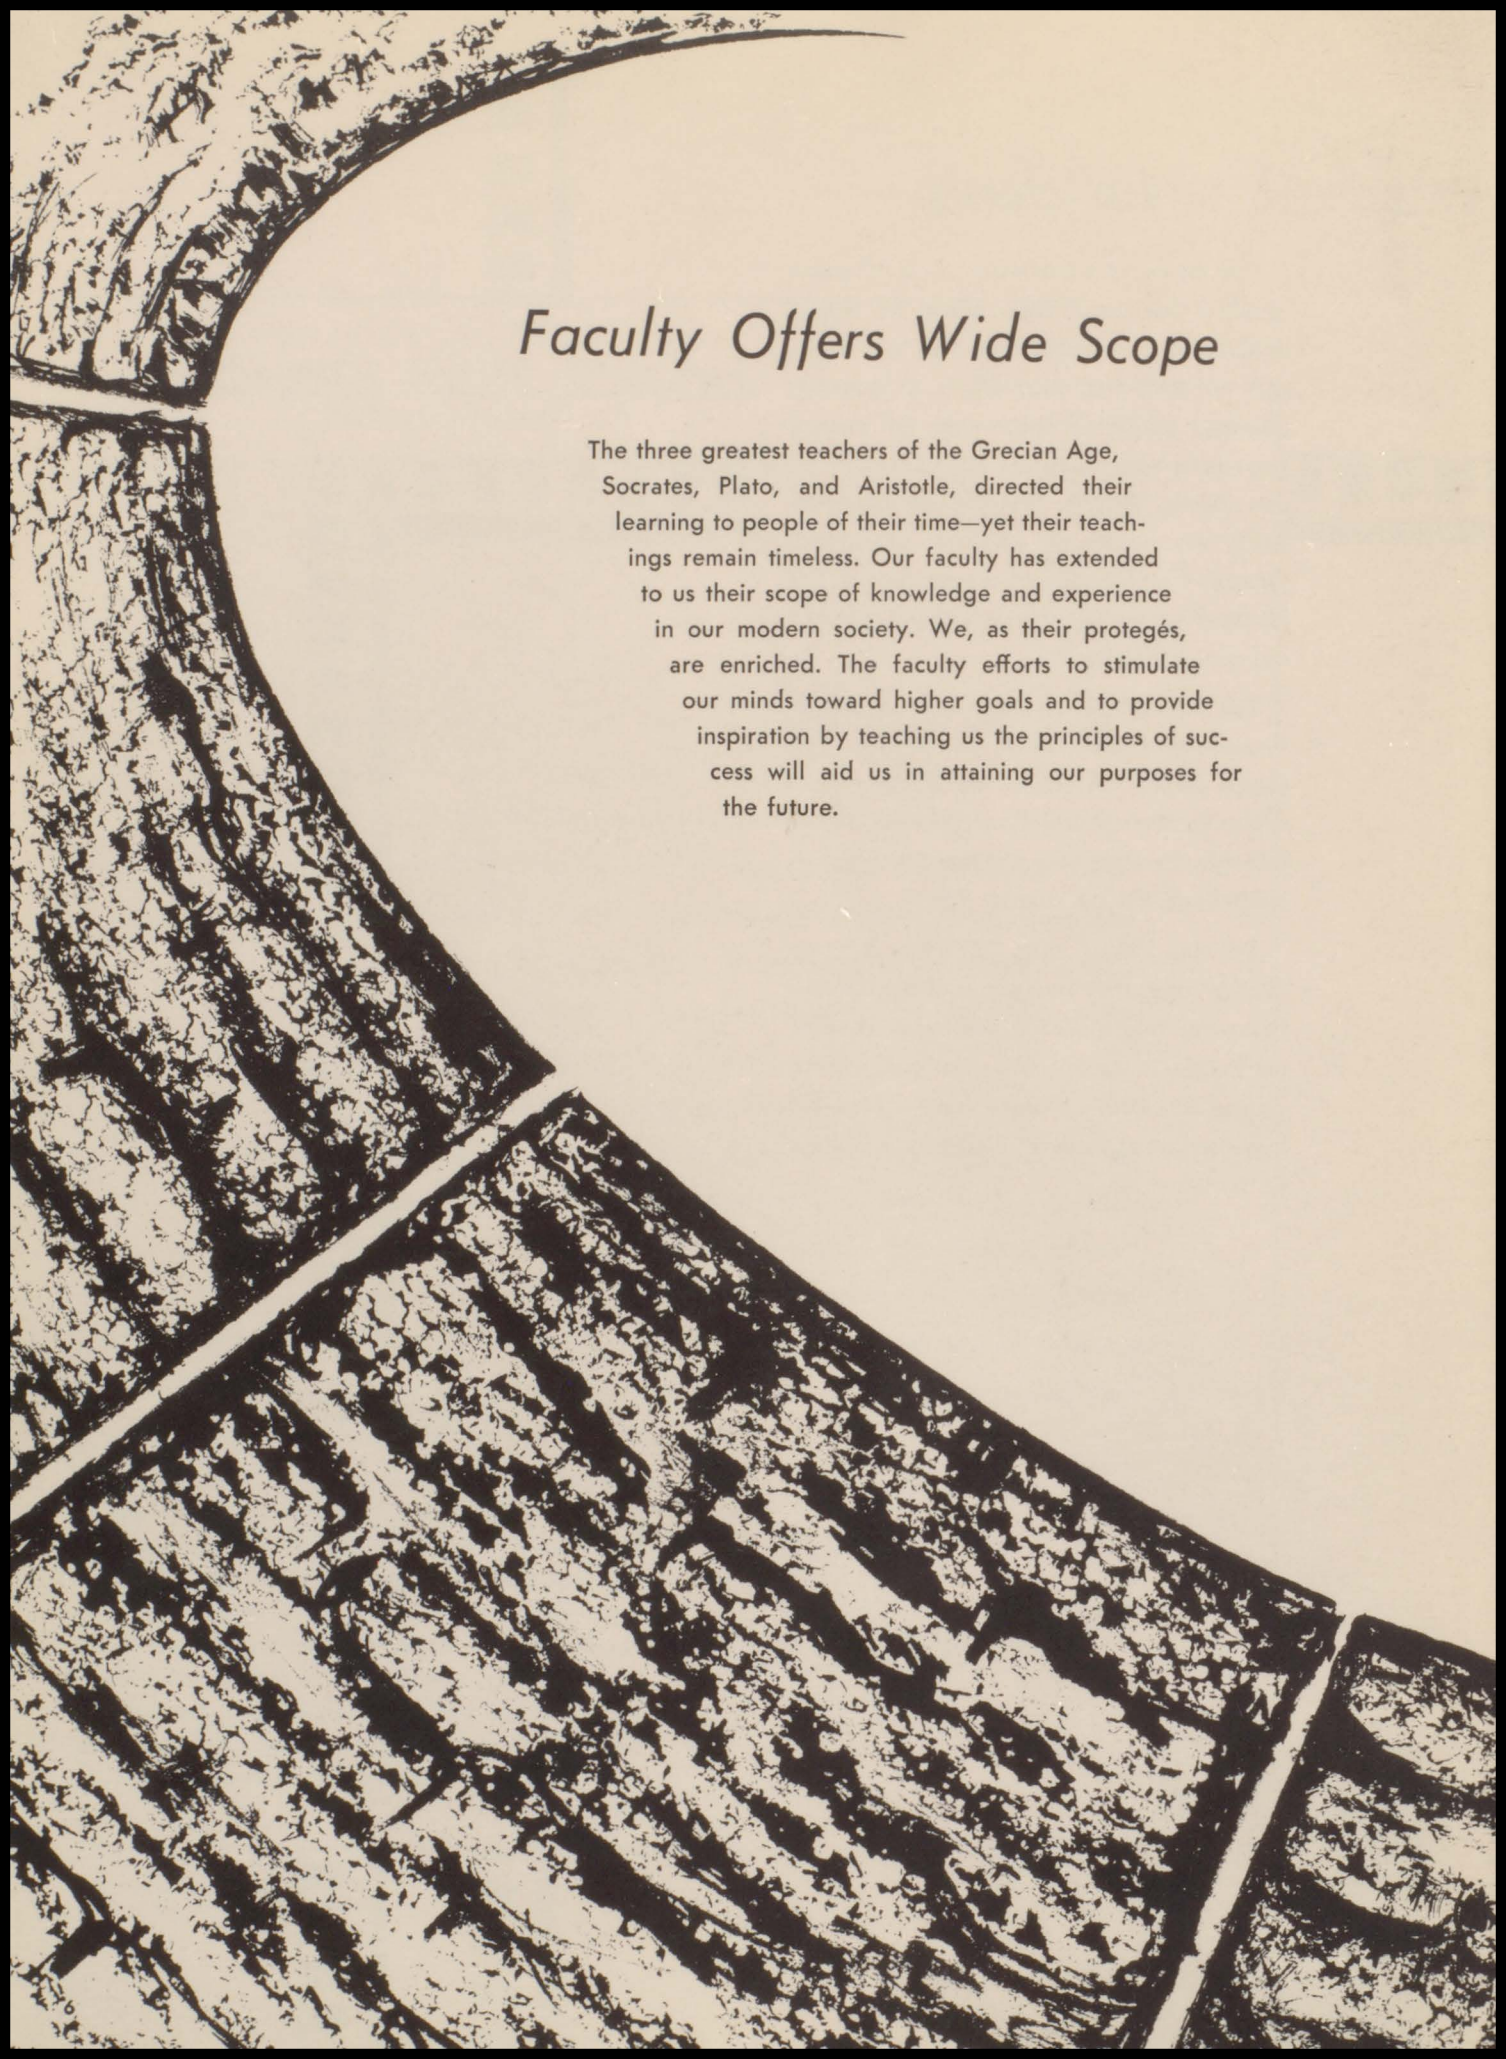

The theme of MEMORIES '61 is "Grecian Ideals in Our Lives." Plato, one of the fathers of Grecian philosophy, illustrated that to enrich the mind one must use it. In America, universal education encourages the student to construct his ideals for the betterment of our society. As the Olympic games stimulated the ideal of physical proficiency through the challenge of competition, so the ideals of sportsmanship are integral parts of our competitive society.

The MEMORIES '61 cover depicts the influence of Greece upon our society. The classic profile represents the Grecian past, while its line of vision carries the theme through the ages into the present, which is symbolized by the human figure.

On the lighter side, "Pericles Jr." our "Perky" constantly reminds us of the Grecian influence. Two thousand years ago Pericles, the builder of Athens and great philosopher, alerted his fellow citizens in a similar but more serious manner of their responsibilities to the future.

In Leadership

A respected man who gave much of himself for our youth, Coach Foley attained and made use of the Grecian ideals of physical and mental prowess. Although his life's occupation was the training and teaching of athletes, he went far beyond his boundaries and strove to help decades of youth become sturdy, upright citizens of their tomorrows. With affection and deep respect, we, the Class of '61, dedicate our yearbook to a man who stands as the essence of sportsmanship, Coach William L. Foley.

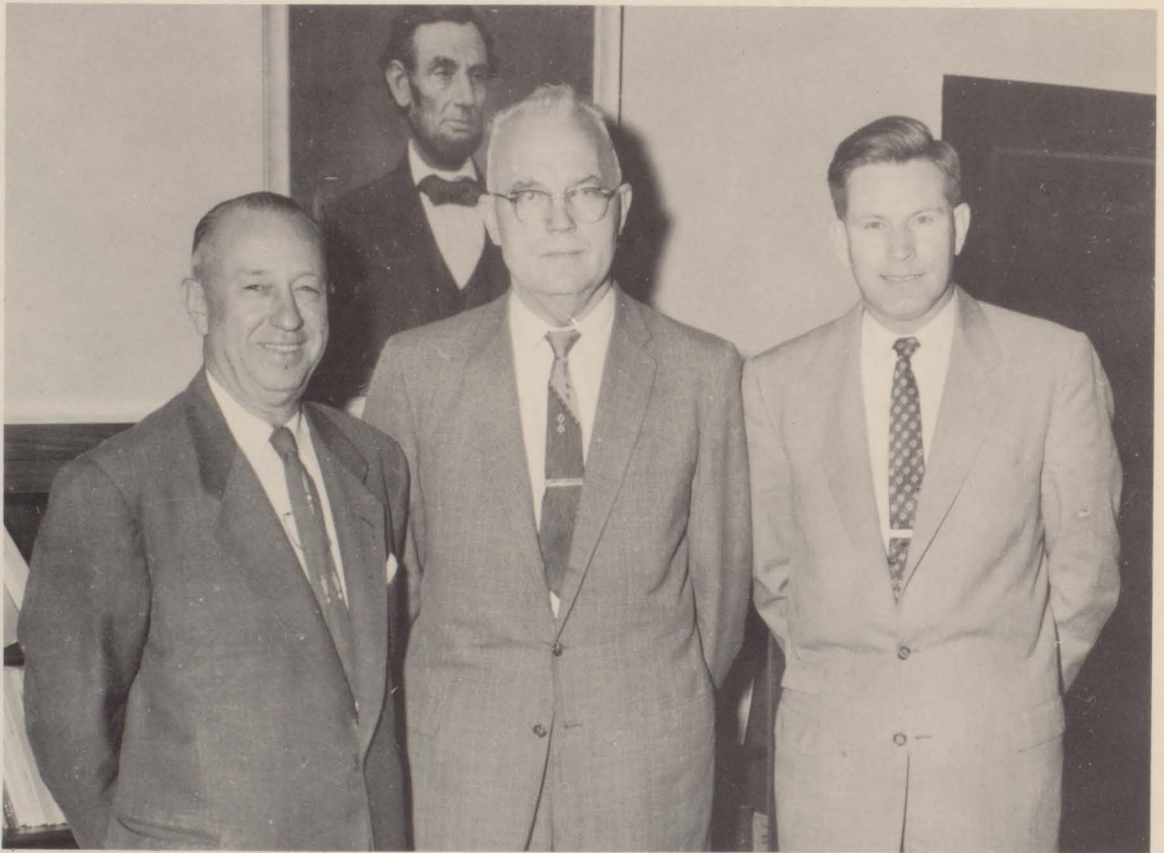

Faculty Offers Wide Scope

The three greatest teachers of the Grecian Age, Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle, directed their learning to people of their time—yet their teachings remain timeless. Our faculty has extended to us their scope of knowledge and experience in our modern society. We, as their protégés, are enriched. The faculty efforts to stimulate our minds toward higher goals and to provide inspiration by teaching us the principles of success will aid us in attaining our purposes for the future.

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATORS

DR. HARRY M. RICE, Principal; MR. CHARLES E. MORGAN, Vice-Principal;
MR. PETER WILSON, Assistant Principal.

The chief reason underlying Bloomfield High School's success is the work of its three excellent administrators, Dr. Rice, Mr. Morgan, and Mr. Wilson. With sincere gratitude, we, the Class of '61, thank them for their invaluable service.

MISS MILDRED R. ZINN

Miss Zinn Retires

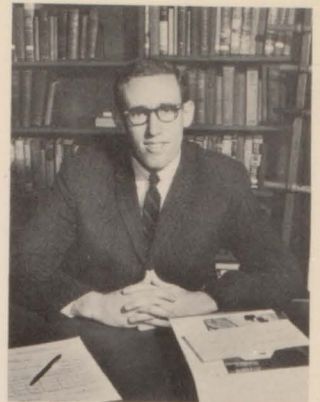

In her years at B.H.S., Miss Mildred Zinn endeavored to instill in the minds of those whom she taught an everlasting devotion to the pursuits of knowledge. To this end she dedicated her life. All of her students have left her classes richer in the knowledge of language and the appreciation of culture. We, the students of Bloomfield High School, will always appreciate her tireless efforts and will remember her as a truly unforgettable teacher.

CARR

Throughout the years, our program of studies has undergone constant revision. New and experimental programs have been introduced as a part of our curriculum during our last year of high school.

In the English Department, two major steps have been taken. Class sizes in college preparatory English have been decreased to allow for more individual attention on theme writing in conjunction with the new form of College Boards containing a writing sample. Experimental this year have been morning meetings to help a small number of seniors who will try English examinations for Advanced Placement in college English.

In technical chemistry, a similar project was also attempted. An "open end" experimental process in labs was tried to see if the "cook book" method now used could be replaced. Tapes and recorders have been used extensively this year in foreign language courses as a stepping stone to the language laboratory of next year.

All of the curriculum departments of our school have been subject to at least gradual improvements this year. This effort has been undertaken to provide a more progressive education for the student of today and the leader of tomorrow.

WELL

Mr. Stine catches every little "well"—and uh—and uh, "um" as he listens to the students' tape recordings.

Language Arts

Skills In

Our own Board of Education is planning to install a language lab in B.H.S. for use in the school year 1961-62. From a passive to an active role in foreign language study is the pattern of the student who has the privilege of working in a language laboratory. In this electronics classroom equipped with individual booths and a master console, the student actually listens and speaks through an entire class period. To further its program of improved foreign language teaching, the federal government under the National Defense Education Act will assume half the cost of installation.

Seniors struggle with language skills to master theme technique.

FRENCH IV: Alodia Zazzara, Janice Fischer, Jane Pascal, Barbara Block and Nancy Casale translate Chansons de Roland.

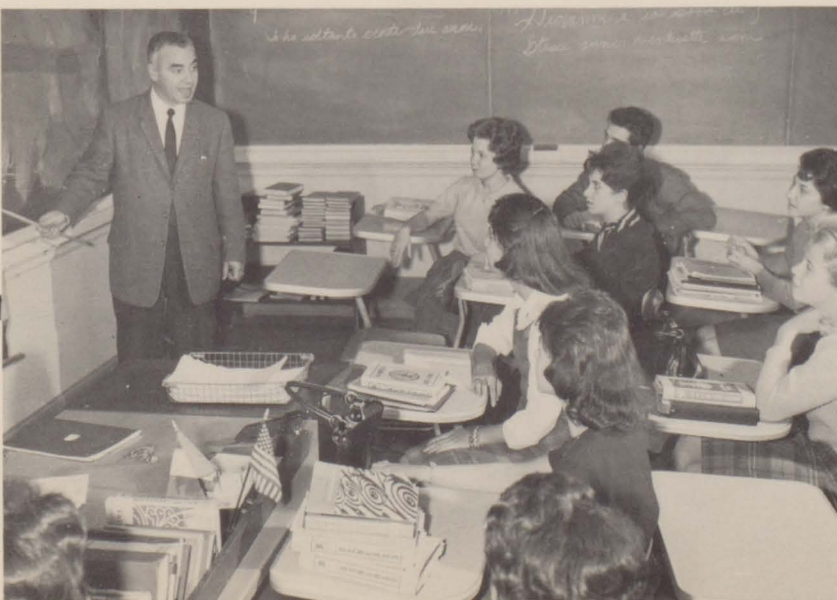

Develop

Communication

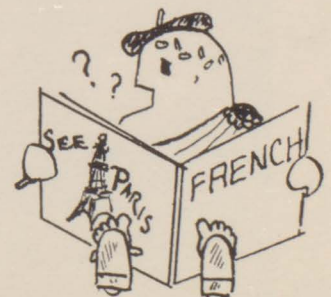

DEVELOPMENTAL READING: Mrs. Hamner assists Beverly Freed in developing greater speed and increased comprehension in her reading ability.

ITALIAN III: Mr. Mangelli stresses the importance of conversing in a foreign language.

"It's Greek to me!"

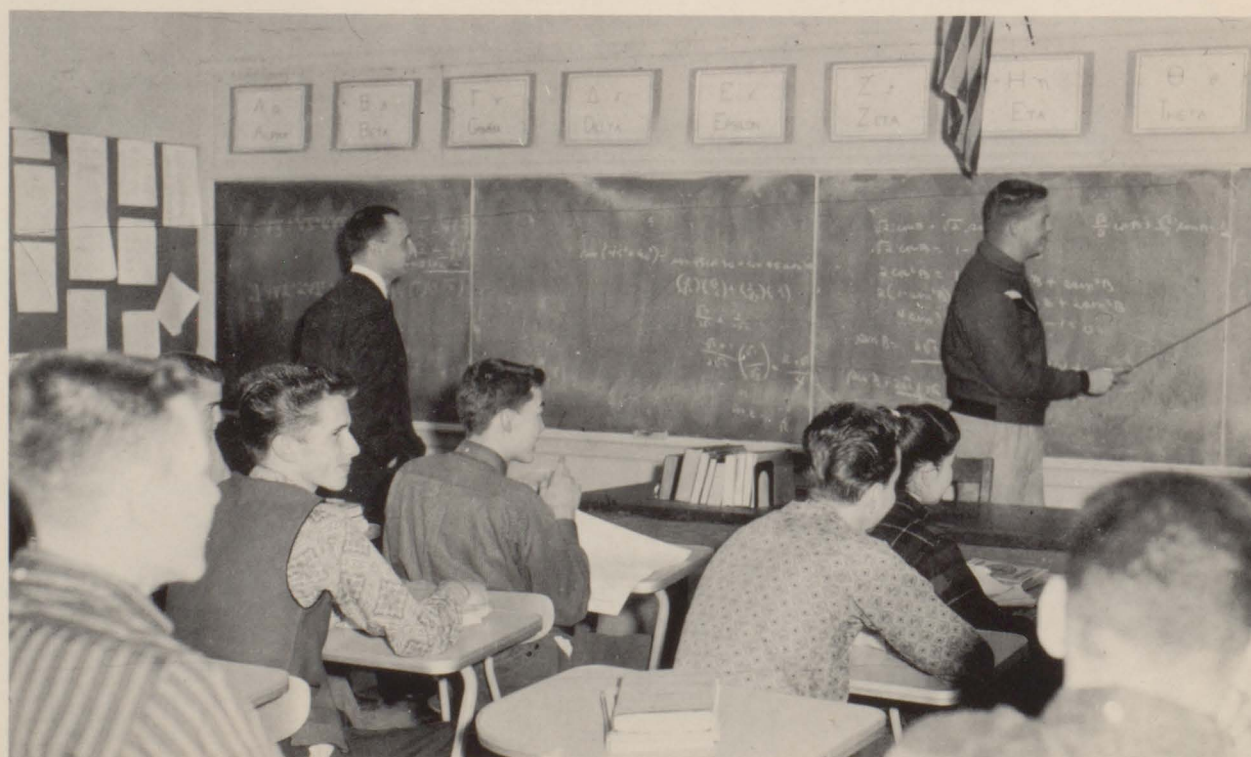

Science

PHYSICS: Applied mathematics lay the foundation for a basic study in physics.

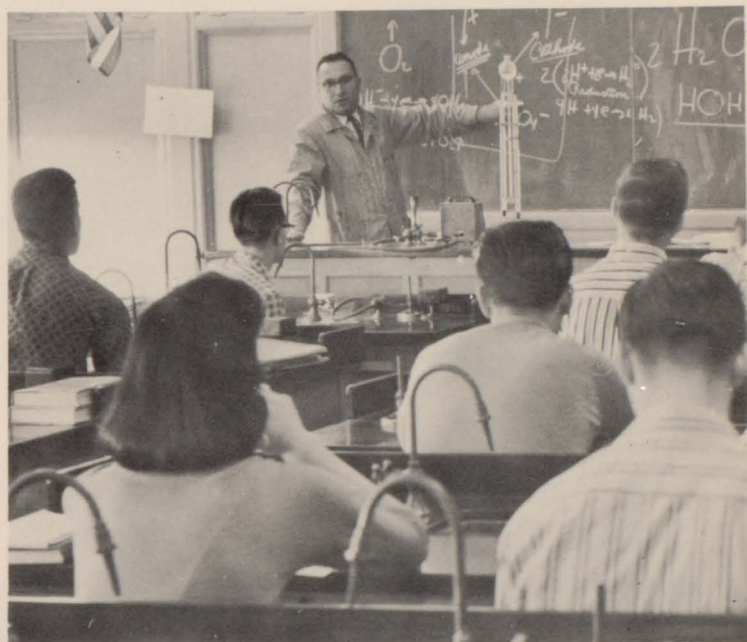

MATHEMATICS: Students master the fundamental techniques of trigonometry in Mr. Corazza's math class.

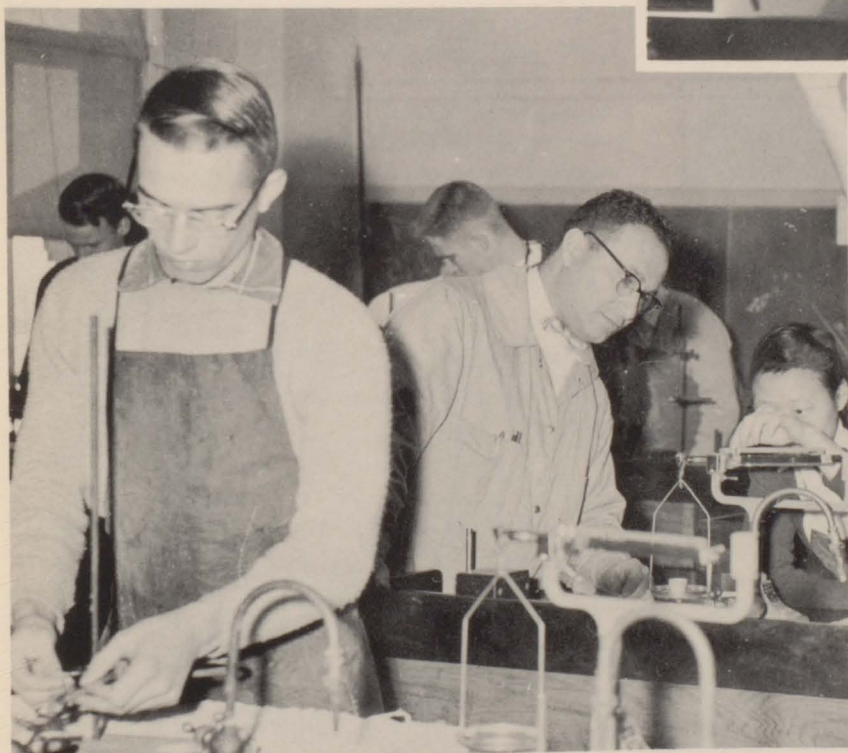

And Math Spark Curiosity

SCIENCE AND MATH

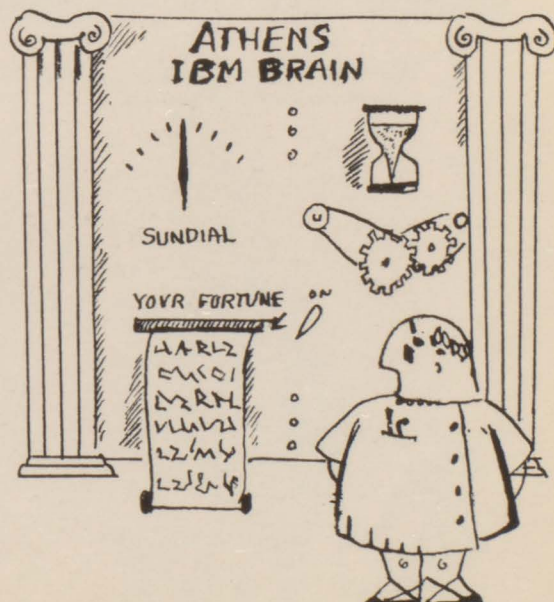

In recent years, the importance of science and mathematics has been greatly emphasized. The acute shortage of qualified scientists and mathematicians has given the students at B.H.S. the added incentive to pursue and to excel in these subjects. If the student does not plan to enter a scientific field, the discipline obtained in these courses will enable him to think clearly and to deduce logical answers for everyday problems.

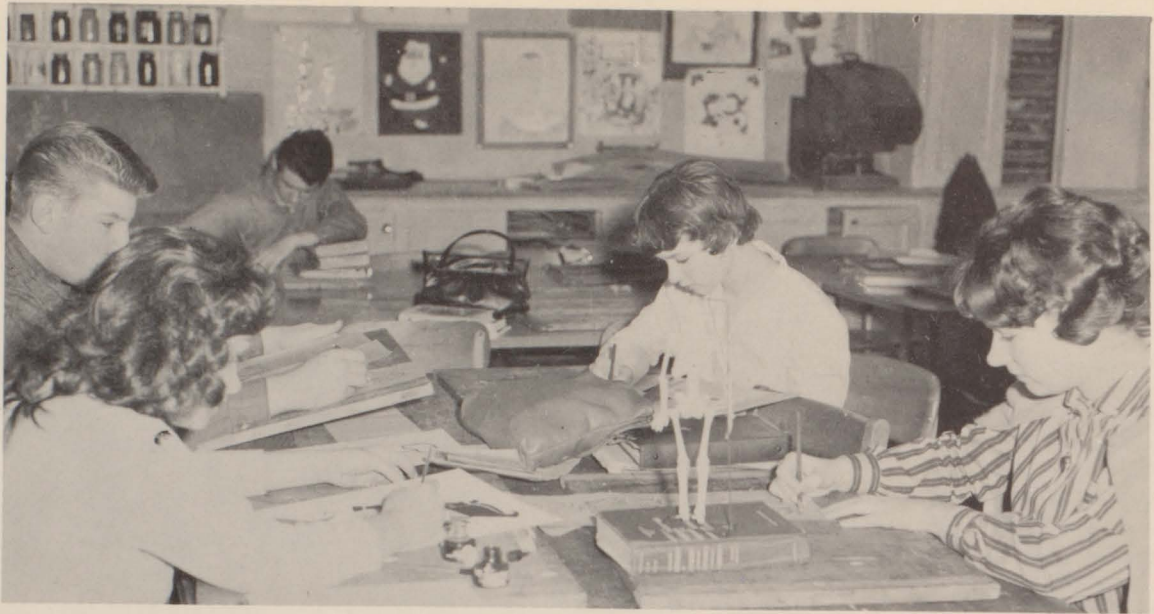

TECHNICAL CHEMISTRY: Mr. Zabady reveals the secret formula of the Zabady Cocktail.

Mr. Zabady watches as Helen Moy weighs crystals of $\text{CuSO}_4 \cdot 5\text{H}_2\text{O}$.

ART III: Advanced techniques are acquired by Art III students.

DRAFTING II: Future draftsmen learn the fundamental skills in drafting.

Arts Vary

Related arts complement the academic subjects in the Bloomfield High School curriculum. Variety and practicality characterize the related arts courses which appeal to the individual interests of the student and help develop his natural skills. The related arts program is structured to meet both avocational and vocational needs of the student.

GRAPHIC ARTS: Mr. Butler demonstrates the silk screen process.

SEWING: Learning to follow a dress pattern enables a girl to have a modern and complete wardrobe.

Curriculum

COOKING: The art of cooking leads to more gracious homemaking or to practical careers in home economics.

METAL SHOP: "If you cut off both thumbs, you get double liability."

TYPING II combines with Stenography I for pre-business experience.

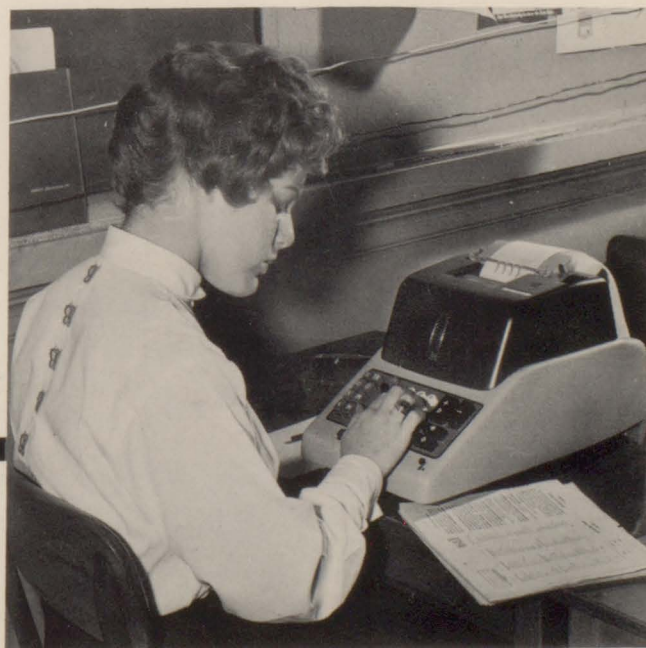

Ediphones in OFFICE PRACTICE develop a student's accuracy and speed in transcription of the aural to the manual.

STENO II: For many students this course provides the springboard to an active business career.

Students Prepare For Business Careers

The Co-operative Secretarial Training Program of B.H.S. offers a selective group of students an advantage which benefits them after graduation. The program consists of seventeen senior girls, selected on the basis of competence, character, and appearance. The girls leave school at 12:20 and go to their office jobs in Bloomfield and adjacent towns. Clerking is the initial job, but by the end of the school year, the girls are permitted to take stenography. In June, the students remain in their jobs as full-time secretaries, thus eliminating the competition for after-graduation jobs.

BUSINESS MACHINES: Through daily practice, Linda Leventhal develops skill in the use of the adding machine.

U. S. HISTORY II: Students practice taking dictation in Briefhand, a course in abbreviated longhand taught in BHS for the first time this year with the intent of simplifying and aiding note-taking for college-bound students.

U.S. HISTORY II: Elaine Stromfeld and Ina Greenhouse lead the class in a discussion of current affairs.

World Conditions Analyzed

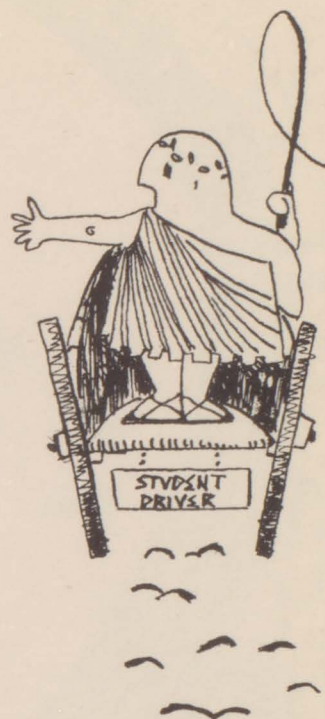

WORLD HISTORY II: Mr. Fitzgerald and his class trace the civilizations of mankind to the present from the four river valleys.

Every student in B.H.S. spends at least two years studying some phase of the social sciences. Many kinds of courses are offered: United States History, World History, Geography and Consumer Education. To aid the student in his understanding of the subject matter, filmstrips, tape recordings, pamphlets and booklets, in addition to regular text books, are utilized. In their study of American government, seniors attend town council meetings, carefully study world affairs and read J. Edgar Hoover's Masters of Deceit. The department hopes that its program in the social sciences will give every student the opportunity to become a better informed, loyal American citizen.

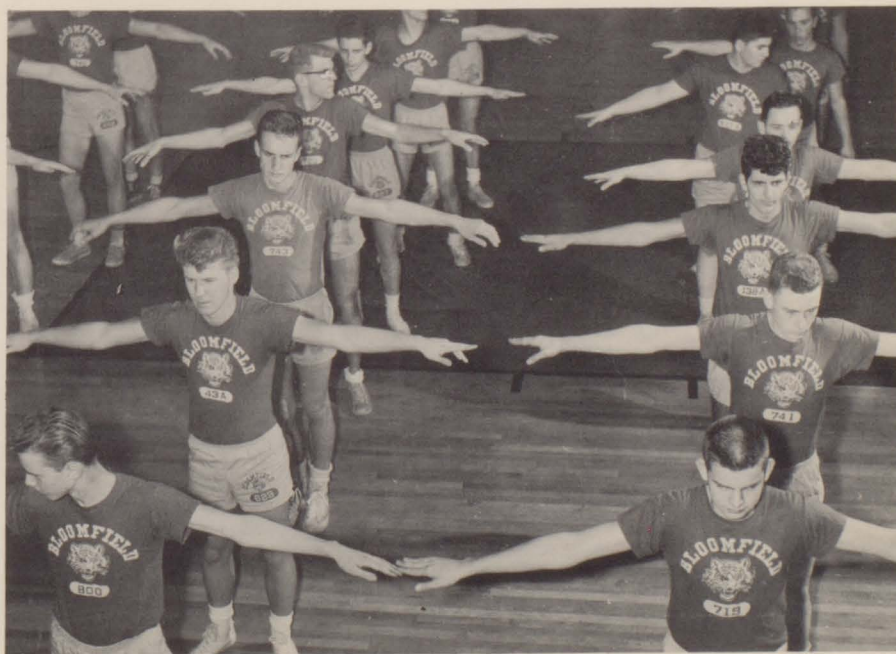

BEHIND-THE-WHEEL: Mr. White attempts to teach a student the—"HEY, look out for that tree!"—fundamentals of safe driving.

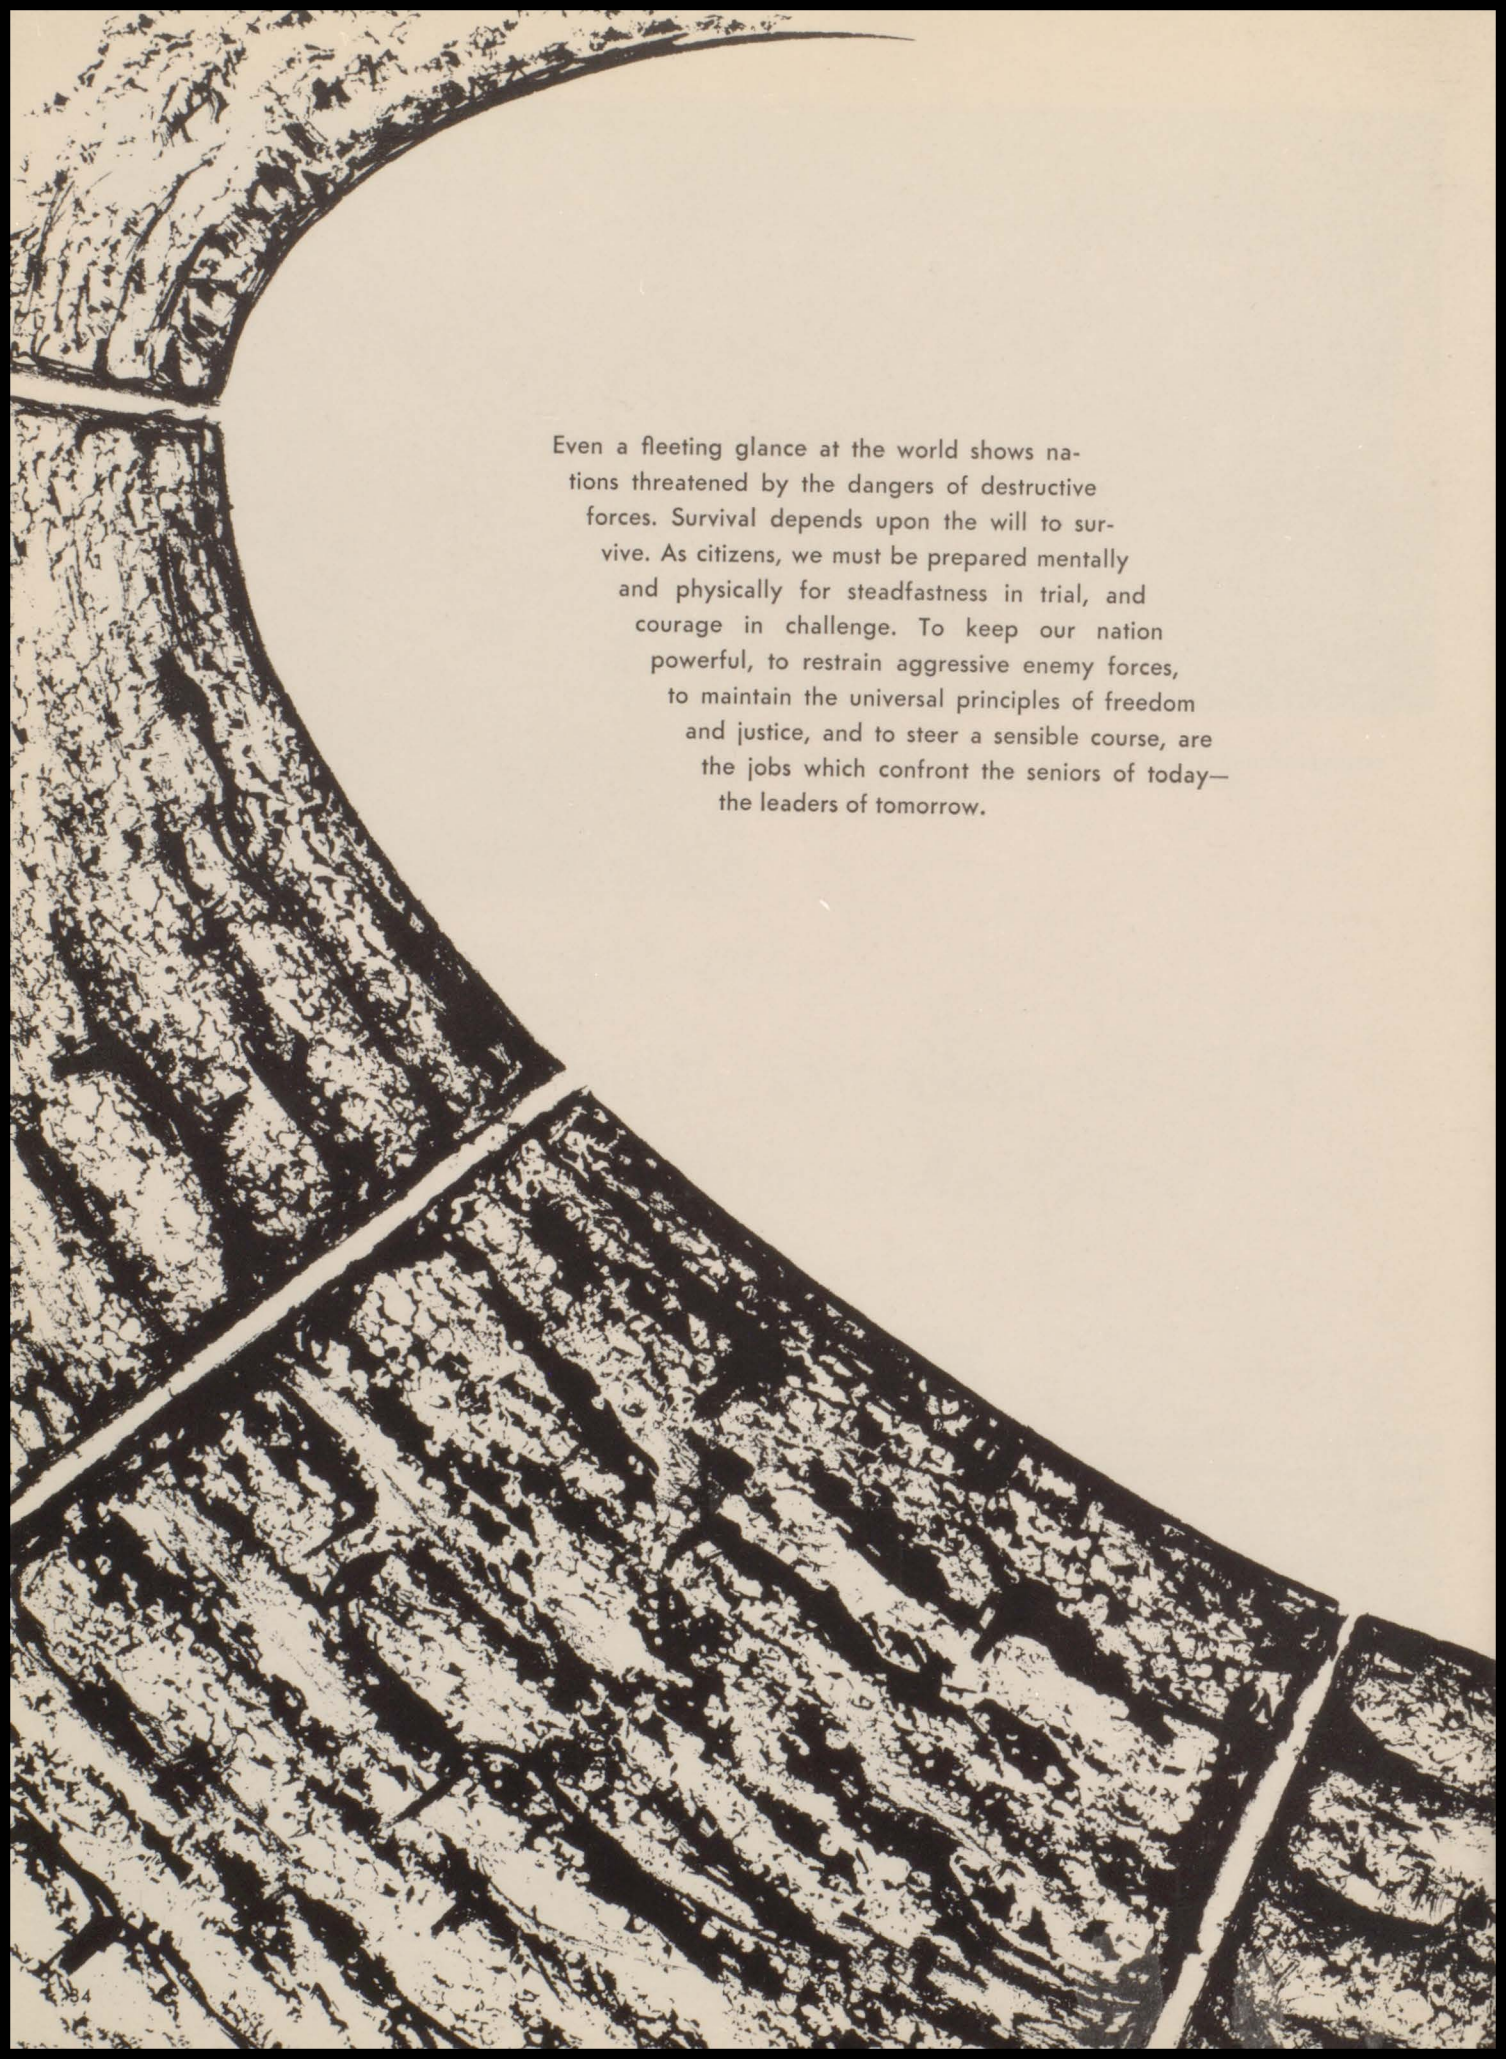

P.E. Co-ordinates Mind And Body

GYM CLASS: Students line up for conditioning exercises, a part of every gym period intended to increase co-ordination and body development.

The physical education department endeavors to co-ordinate the body with the mind. The study of health is founded upon the principles of social hygiene, while safe driving is stressed in driver education courses. In gym classes, various physical activities are engaged in by all students in an effort to develop greater co-ordination and physical fitness.

Even a fleeting glance at the world shows nations threatened by the dangers of destructive forces. Survival depends upon the will to survive. As citizens, we must be prepared mentally and physically for steadfastness in trial, and courage in challenge. To keep our nation powerful, to restrain aggressive enemy forces, to maintain the universal principles of freedom and justice, and to steer a sensible course, are the jobs which confront the seniors of today—the leaders of tomorrow.

ΣΕΝΙΑΔΟΣ

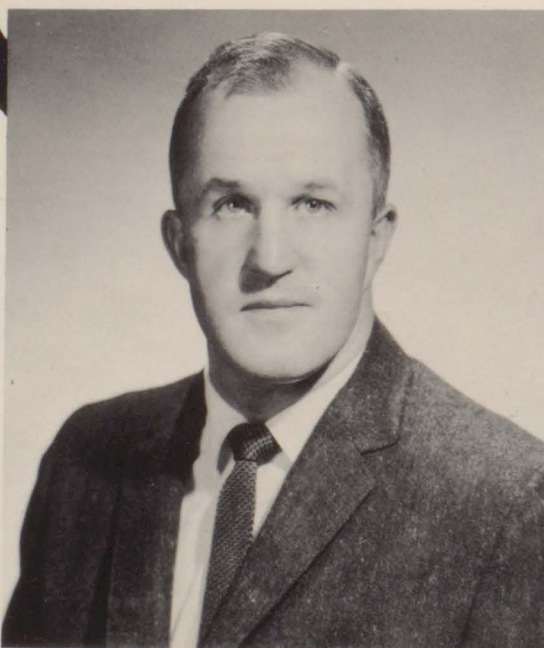

The girls of the Class of '61 wish to extend their sincere gratitude to Miss Doris Bill for her understanding and guidance during our three years in high school. She lent a guiding hand not only in school problems but also in those concerning personal affairs. Never did she turn away one of her girls who sought her aid. She made the opportunity for us to talk out our problems often at the cost of her much-needed time.

MISS DORIS BILL

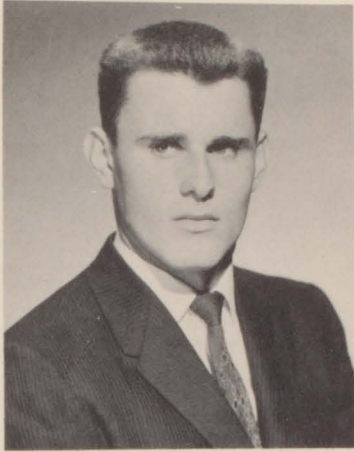

CLASS ADVISORS

MR. SCHENCK

A boy's high school years are extremely important to him, for this is the time when he lays the foundation for his future career. It is during this period that a boy needs the help of a well-qualified guidance counselor, and Mr. Schenck has been much more than this to the boys of the Class of '61. Mr. Schenck has used his knowledge and experience to help us solve our many problems, whether they be electing courses or choosing a suitable college or university for further study. In addition, Mr. Schenck's warm personality, which has made him a close friend of many senior boys, has enabled him to help us solve many a perplexing personal problem. We, the boys of the Class of '61, sincerely thank him for his invaluable guidance and assistance.

THE WHITE HOUSE

THE PREPARATION OF THE YOUTH OF AMERICA

First -- To be alert and informed citizens, in an age when ignorance or misinformation could bring political catastrophe -- an age when the guarding of our nearest communities may ultimately depend upon our knowledge of the most distant lands and peoples.

Second -- To be tolerant and sensitive citizens -- so that our society may not suffer the moral sickness that is bigotry -- and may clearly perceive the values and the virtues cherished in other societies.

Third -- To be skilled and accomplished citizens -- able to grasp the great levers, turn the giant wheels, of this new atomic age, as nature finally surrenders to men so many of its colossal secrets.

Fourth -- To be wise and reflective citizens, thankful for the new leisure, promising a new freedom from much toil -- not merely to relax in pleasure but to cultivate the mind and to nourish the spirit. To be wholly educated, in the sense that man is a spiritual and intellectual and physical being. America needs citizens strong in their ideals and spiritual convictions, healthy in their bodies, and tirelessly inquiring in mind.

And finally -- to be bold and courageous citizens, knowing that strength and sacrifice are the indispensable saving weapons of freedom -- and knowing that the frontier in America, that rules so much of our history, has become, in this age, the frontier that is America -- leader of free nations, hope of free men.

Dancing, skating, driving, and dating, are on Marge's list of favorite pastimes. This pleasant lass hopes to become a secretary of a buyer in the retailing business.

Home Economics Club; Latin Club; C.Y.O.; National Honor Society; Assistant, Gym Office.

VIRGINIA ANN ZAMBRI

Virginia loves dancing, football games and having fun. She will always be remembered for her lively manner and friendly personality.

Banking Representative; Softball; Volleyball; Drall Club; Gym Demonstration; C.Y.O.

RICHARD JOHN ZARRO

Zork, standard equipment on the football team, enjoys tinkering with cars and participating in all sports. College and a career in the business world are ahead for our Junior Class President.

Varsity Football; Varsity Track; Varsity Wrestling; Junior Class President; C.Y.O.; Chemistry Club; Key Club; Boys' Glee Club.

SUSAN THERESA ZAWISTOWSKI

Lively Susan is fond of travel, miniature golf, bowling, and writing letters. Susie plans to further her education and become a fashion buyer after graduation.

Bowling Club; D.E. Club; STUDENT PRINTS; All School Production.

ALODIA MADELINE ZAZZARA

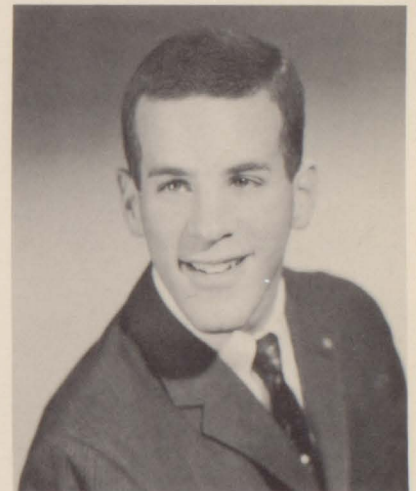

Although happy-go-lucky by nature, Lo demonstrated her earnest dependability when she took part in the Spring Choral Concert and helped make it such a success. Alodia plans to enter the business world.

Girls' Glee Club; Varsity Choir; French Club; F.T.A.; C.Y.O.

LESLIE DAVID ZENACK

Crowded halls and "hoody-type" characters get no sympathy from this musically-minded senior. A serious student Leslie wishes future band members "Good luck!" Graduate work in physics will comprise his future.

Orchestra; Marching Band; Concert Band; Symphonic Wind Ensemble; Key Club; Math Club, Secretary, Treasurer; National Honor Society; Spanish Club.

ELIZABETH MARIE ZILLY

A European tour would be the ideal vacation for Betty. Perhaps after graduation from secretarial college her dream will become a reality. Right now she enjoys going to football and basketball games.

WALLACE STEPHEN ZIMA

Pride reflects in Wally's eyes as he pictures himself in a uniform. No matter where he goes in the service he'll be telling his buddies about the lunches and studies at B.H.S.

JOHN ROBERT ZIMMERMANN

John is often seen driving up Broad Street in his car or watching T.V. in his spare time. His sense of humor and his big smile have made him a very popular boy.

NANCY LOUISE ZIMMERMAN

Nance loves to listen to rock 'n' roll records, read, and take long rides with the friends she's met in B.H.S. She splits her future between nursing and serving as a medical secretary.

CATHERINE ANNE ZIOBRO

Usually seen hurrying from one activity to another, this busy senior is a hard working editor of MEMORIES. Cathy plans to attend college and further her education.

MEMORIES, Literary Editor; STUDENT PRINTS, Reporter; Girl Reserves, Treasurer; Latin Club, Tribune; Student Council; National Honor Society; German Club; Home-room Representative; Choir; Chemistry Club.

JOSEPH THOMAS ZOPPI

A natural athlete, Joe participates in all sports. The future sees him established in his own business, remembering the fun at B.H.S.

Cross Country; Indoor Track; Outdoor Track.

In Memoriam

We deeply regret the loss of one of our classmates, Lucielle Altieri, who died on June 6, 1960, at the end of her Junior year. Her main interest was in homemaking, and she had a flair for dramatics. Although Lucille was quiet and did not enter into a great number of activities, she had a pleasing personality and was very well-liked.

Our Years Make Memories

MEMORIES '61 is an account of your last three years in Bloomfield High School. With the idea in mind that a person's high school years are often the best years of his life, MEMORIES '61 includes every aspect of your high school life, from your classmates to the preparation you have received for your soon-to-be-acquired roles as adult citizens.

Editors-in-Chief Carol Ferentz and Joe Attanasio, and Advisor Mrs. Koch, edit a humorous passage in MEMORIES '61.

Act

The Grecian ideal of the perfection of the whole man is exemplified in the many varied activities offered at B.H.S. Provision for social and athletic activities in the student life sets a pattern for better community cooperation for the students when they join the active citizen population. The student has the opportunity to "Learn to Live" with his fellow students by participating in different activities geared to his particular interest. The individual must take advantage of the enjoyment of the pleasures in life which are vital to the nourishment of the mind. The Greeks truly realized the advantage of a well-rounded person and worked and played to achieve this goal.

Bloomfield Senior High School, 160 Broad St., Bloomfield, N. J.

VOL. XXXII, No. 4

Student Prints, issued ten times a year, serves as the voice of the students of B.H.S. Publishing the paper every month involves much hard work. Looking back on the past year, the staff, under the competent direction of Mr. Frank Leite and Miss Elizabeth Pisarra, feels that it has learned a great deal about responsibility, organization, patience, consideration and the ability to work under pressure.

The editors, along with the advisors, decide what is to be included in the next edition of the paper.

The STUDENT PRINTS Art Staff creates the humorous cartoons which accompany feature articles in the paper.

Mr. Stout aids Fred Grill and Carol Kelly in managing the finances of the Student Prints.

Governing Bloomfield High School is its able Student Council. This body of elected members from each homeroom meets twice a month in the auditorium. At that time the members discuss matters pertaining to the students of B.H.S. Each year the council carries on many activities: it sponsors the Football Queen Dance, sells bookcovers in the cafeteria, and supports a foster child, Brigetta, through the Save the Children Federation. A suggestions committee is appointed to sift through the various recommendations made by students. Many of these suggestions have been acted upon and, as a result, the clocks in many rooms have been repaired, portfolios have been sold with the bookcovers, and pens with B.H.S. inscribed on them have been purchased.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY: Officers Helen Moy, Mike Castoro, Fred Rowe, and Sue Goldberg, along with advisors Mrs. Moskowitz and Mrs. Partridge guide N.H.S. activities.

N.H.S. Instills Purpose

In an impressive ceremony stressing the goal of promoting character, scholarship, leadership and service through example and performance, seventy students were inducted into the National Honor Society in the spring of 1960. In the fall of 1960, thirty-five more students became members of the Society. Under the combined leadership of Mrs. Partridge and Mrs. Moskowitz, the students have held monthly evening meetings in the school library.

ALL-SCHOOL PRODUCTION: "The Charm School," a rollicking comedy, displayed the charms of a number of B.H.S. lovelies.

"The Charm School"

Well, what I want to know is, if this is a charm school, why are there bars on the windows?

To raise the funds for class activities, all three classes sponsored a three-act comedy, "The Charm School." Under the direction of Mr. William H. Stine, performances were given Friday and Saturday evenings, December 2nd and 3rd, 1960.

Male members of "The Charm School" take time out from rehearsals for a bull session.

In charge of the All-School Production were Mr. Stine, Mr. Grosse, Miss Dennison and Miss Akillian, with Carol Hageman and Joyce Power as student directors.

Raises Funds

Gaye Marchini, Carol Cueman and Alberta Marchetti report their class ticket sales to Miss Winifred Hunt in the sales competition won this year by the Juniors.

Through their advance publicity, Richard Ward, Elizabeth Fischer, Mrs. Rawley, Bob Orchard, Matt Melucci and Ellen Kazin put the school production into the press.

Ads and sponsors for the program were solicited by the above committee with Miss Ruth Andrews of the Business Department.

Miss Fischer headed a group of capable girls on the art committee of "The Charm School."

Miss Akillian and Miss MacBrair were in charge of the make-up committee.

The stage crew of our All-School Production was under the able supervision of Mr. Minchin.

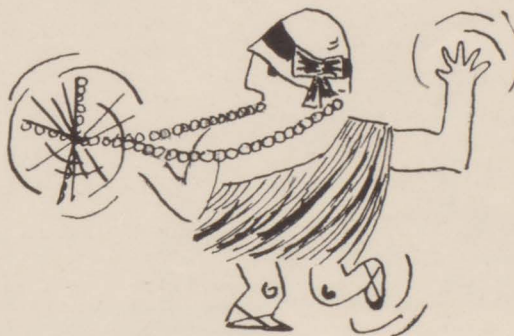

Variety Show Displays Talent

In the annual Fall Variety Show a series of student acts were presented. This show was sponsored by the Student Council in an attempt to raise funds for its activities. Lloyd Grosse directed this performance.

These BHS cuties danced the Charleston in the Variety Show. They are Floretta Melograno, Rosemarie Sardo, Roberta Scheffer and Judy Newman.

Larry Harris and Alma Siniscal relived the roaring twenties for the benefit of the Variety Show audience.

Yes, I'd like to have my palm red.

MUSICAL MONDAY: Pat Sherman, Treasurer; Mr. Hartman, Instrumental Director; Judy Heller, Vice-President; Jane Kennedy, President; Beverly Coon, Secretary; and Mr. Diller, Vocal Director, are in charge of the Musical Monday Club, an organization which gives its members an opportunity to perform before an audience of their fellow members.

Musical Organizations Provide

CHRISTMAS SHOW: Mr. Diller directs the BHS Varsity Choir in one of the vocal numbers performed during the 1960 Christmas Show.

VARSITY CHOIR: Members of the BHS Varsity Choir and Miss Mildred Wagner, piano accompanist, rehearse for a future performance under the direction of Mr. Ralph Diller.

Entertainment

CAROLING: No, these students aren't begging for alms, they are engaged in singing Christmas carols in the school halls just before the Christmas holidays.

MALE VOICES: The combined male voices of the Varsity Choir and the Boys' Glee Club perform for the student body during the Veterans' Day assembly. They are accompanied on the piano by Miss Mildred Wagner.

Instrumental Groups "Swing"

THE SERENADERS: The boys who comprise the BHS dance band, The Serenaders, under the student direction of Bob Bayley, swing through a modern arrangement in the annual Variety Show.

The B.H.S. marching, concert, and symphonic bands highlighted the social events of the school year with their fine performances. The marching band performed at all football games, while the other two exerted most of their efforts in assemblies and their annual band concert.

Several members of the band tune up during a rehearsal.

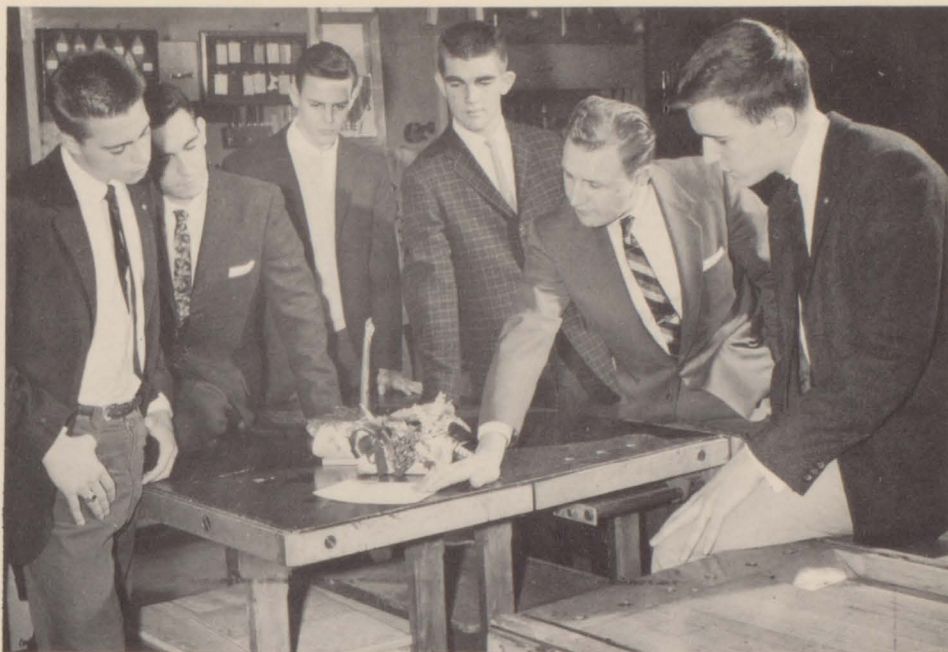

Three of the seventy-six trombone players—Steve Pinterich, Armando Perez and Joe Ranagan—tune up with Bob Davis on the saxophone for a band rehearsal.

The Bloomfield High School Key Club has won the New Jersey District Gold Award the past two years for service to the school and the community. Teachers and students have benefited from the distributing of the New York Times and the Herald Tribune. Under the supervision of Mr. Keller, the club advisor, the Key Club collected long overdue books for the town library.

Making favors for hospital patients and ushering at school functions are but two of the many services performed by the Girl Reserves. Miss Drake and the club officers have sought to instill a deeper interest and appreciation in helping others.

KEY CLUB members Larry Welle, Joe Attanasio, Al Londino, Fred Rowe and Keith Hughes inspect a sample of the Christmas decorations given to a worthy organization.

Service Clubs Give Aid

GIRL RESERVES: Gynine Centalanza and other Girl Reserve members talk about a future project with their advisor, Miss Drake.

THE LIBRARY CLUB is responsible for the care and handling of all books belonging to the school library.

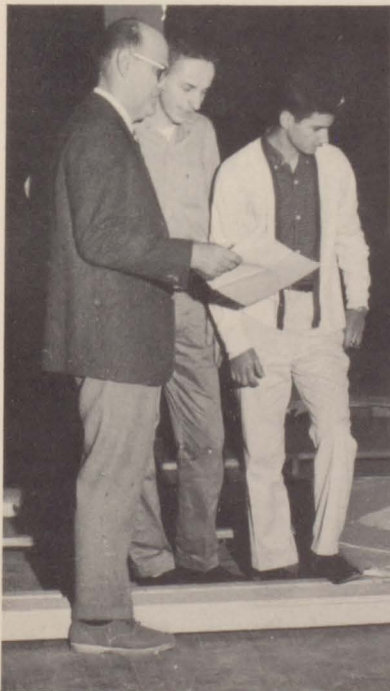

AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB members learn the behind-the-scenes activities of a camera crew.

JUNIOR RED CROSS: Mrs. Murchie, one of our school nurses, shows Jr. Red Cross members Kay Fullaway, Helen Beck, and Zoyla Haubner the art of making holiday favors for the hospitalized.

The colorful bulletin boards throughout the school are designed and constructed by members of the Display Committee under Mr. Eller's direction.

STAGE CREW. Mr. Minchin's Stage Crew is in the process of constructing scenery for the All School Production.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB: Members of the D. E. Club make practical application of their clerical studies.

Career Clubs Stimulate Vocational Interests

Mrs. Grabo explains the process of plant pollination to a few of her Biology Club members.

Boys interested in just how the engine of a car works profit from Mr. Stellatella's Mechanics of Transportation Club.

CHEMISTRY CLUB: The officers of the Chemistry Club perform a titration experiment under the direction of Mrs. Becker, club advisor.

ELECTRONICS CLUB advisor Mr. Grote and the officers of the Electronics Club assemble an experiment using analog computers.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB officers Elizabeth Tully, Rheta Gotch, and Renée Malanga prepare for formal initiation of new members.

Through the many career clubs offered at Bloomfield High School, the student may choose one which will aid him in the understanding of the underlying principles entailed in his future career choice. Learned are many of the factors which go into the making of a successful and happy individual.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA: Miss Andrew and Mrs. DeVries discuss proper business procedures with interested students.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA: Mrs. Grill and members of the F.T.A. discuss future teaching careers.

FUTURE PHYSICIANS OF AMERICA: Now, the neck bone's connected to the head bone.

"Future" Clubs Prepare Careers

During high school years, the students make plans for the future and begin preparation for their future careers. There are several clubs in B.H.S.—Future Nurses of America, Future Business Leaders of America, Future Physicians of America, Future Teachers of America—which aid the student in deciding on and preparing for his life's work.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA: Mari-claire Looges and Arlene Rodham ponder health problems with advisor, Miss Helen Flannery.

Italian in playback isn't the same as when Mr. Mangelli speaks. Gaye Marchini, Carol Cufone and Marilyn Pinto listen while Joanne Riccobone reads into the mike.

Spanish Club members, Sue Goldberg and Josephine Imanuele, turn current events to good use in a monthly meeting.

Language Clubs Provide

LANGUAGE CLUBS: Language clubs exist to give the student a better understanding of the background and culture of the language he is studying and to aid the student in enjoying his study. Regular monthly meetings, at school or in private homes, present speakers, projects and parties which pertain to the special interests of the club.

Applying the ancient to the modern, LATIN CLUB members consider the influences of Latin upon our culture.

French conversation is kept lively by Miss Bohannon with Chris Gasior, Karen Zeborowski, Barbara Kolosok, and Carol Jones in the Junior French Club.

Seniors of Le Cercle Francais anticipate their opportunity this winter to attend La Comedie Francaise productions of Moliere at City Center.

Background

The Deutscher Kreis made plans with Mr. Eisenstadt to hear Faust as one of the club activities.

ART CLUB: A picture frame is being re-finished by Art Club members Liz Fisher, Barbara Werner and Ellen Kazin.

Mr. Zabady discusses the initial steps in developing pictures with members of the Camera Club.

Pleasure Clubs Offer

CHEFS' CLUB: Don Kick takes one of the Chefs' Club's masterpieces out of the oven.

PLEASURE CLUBS: Students have the opportunity to display their special talents and cultivate their particular interests in clubs created for this purpose. Whether the interest be photography, cooking, reading, art or math, B.H.S. has a club to satisfy the interested students. These clubs encourage students in the areas which may some day even be enlarged into a profitable profession or hobby.

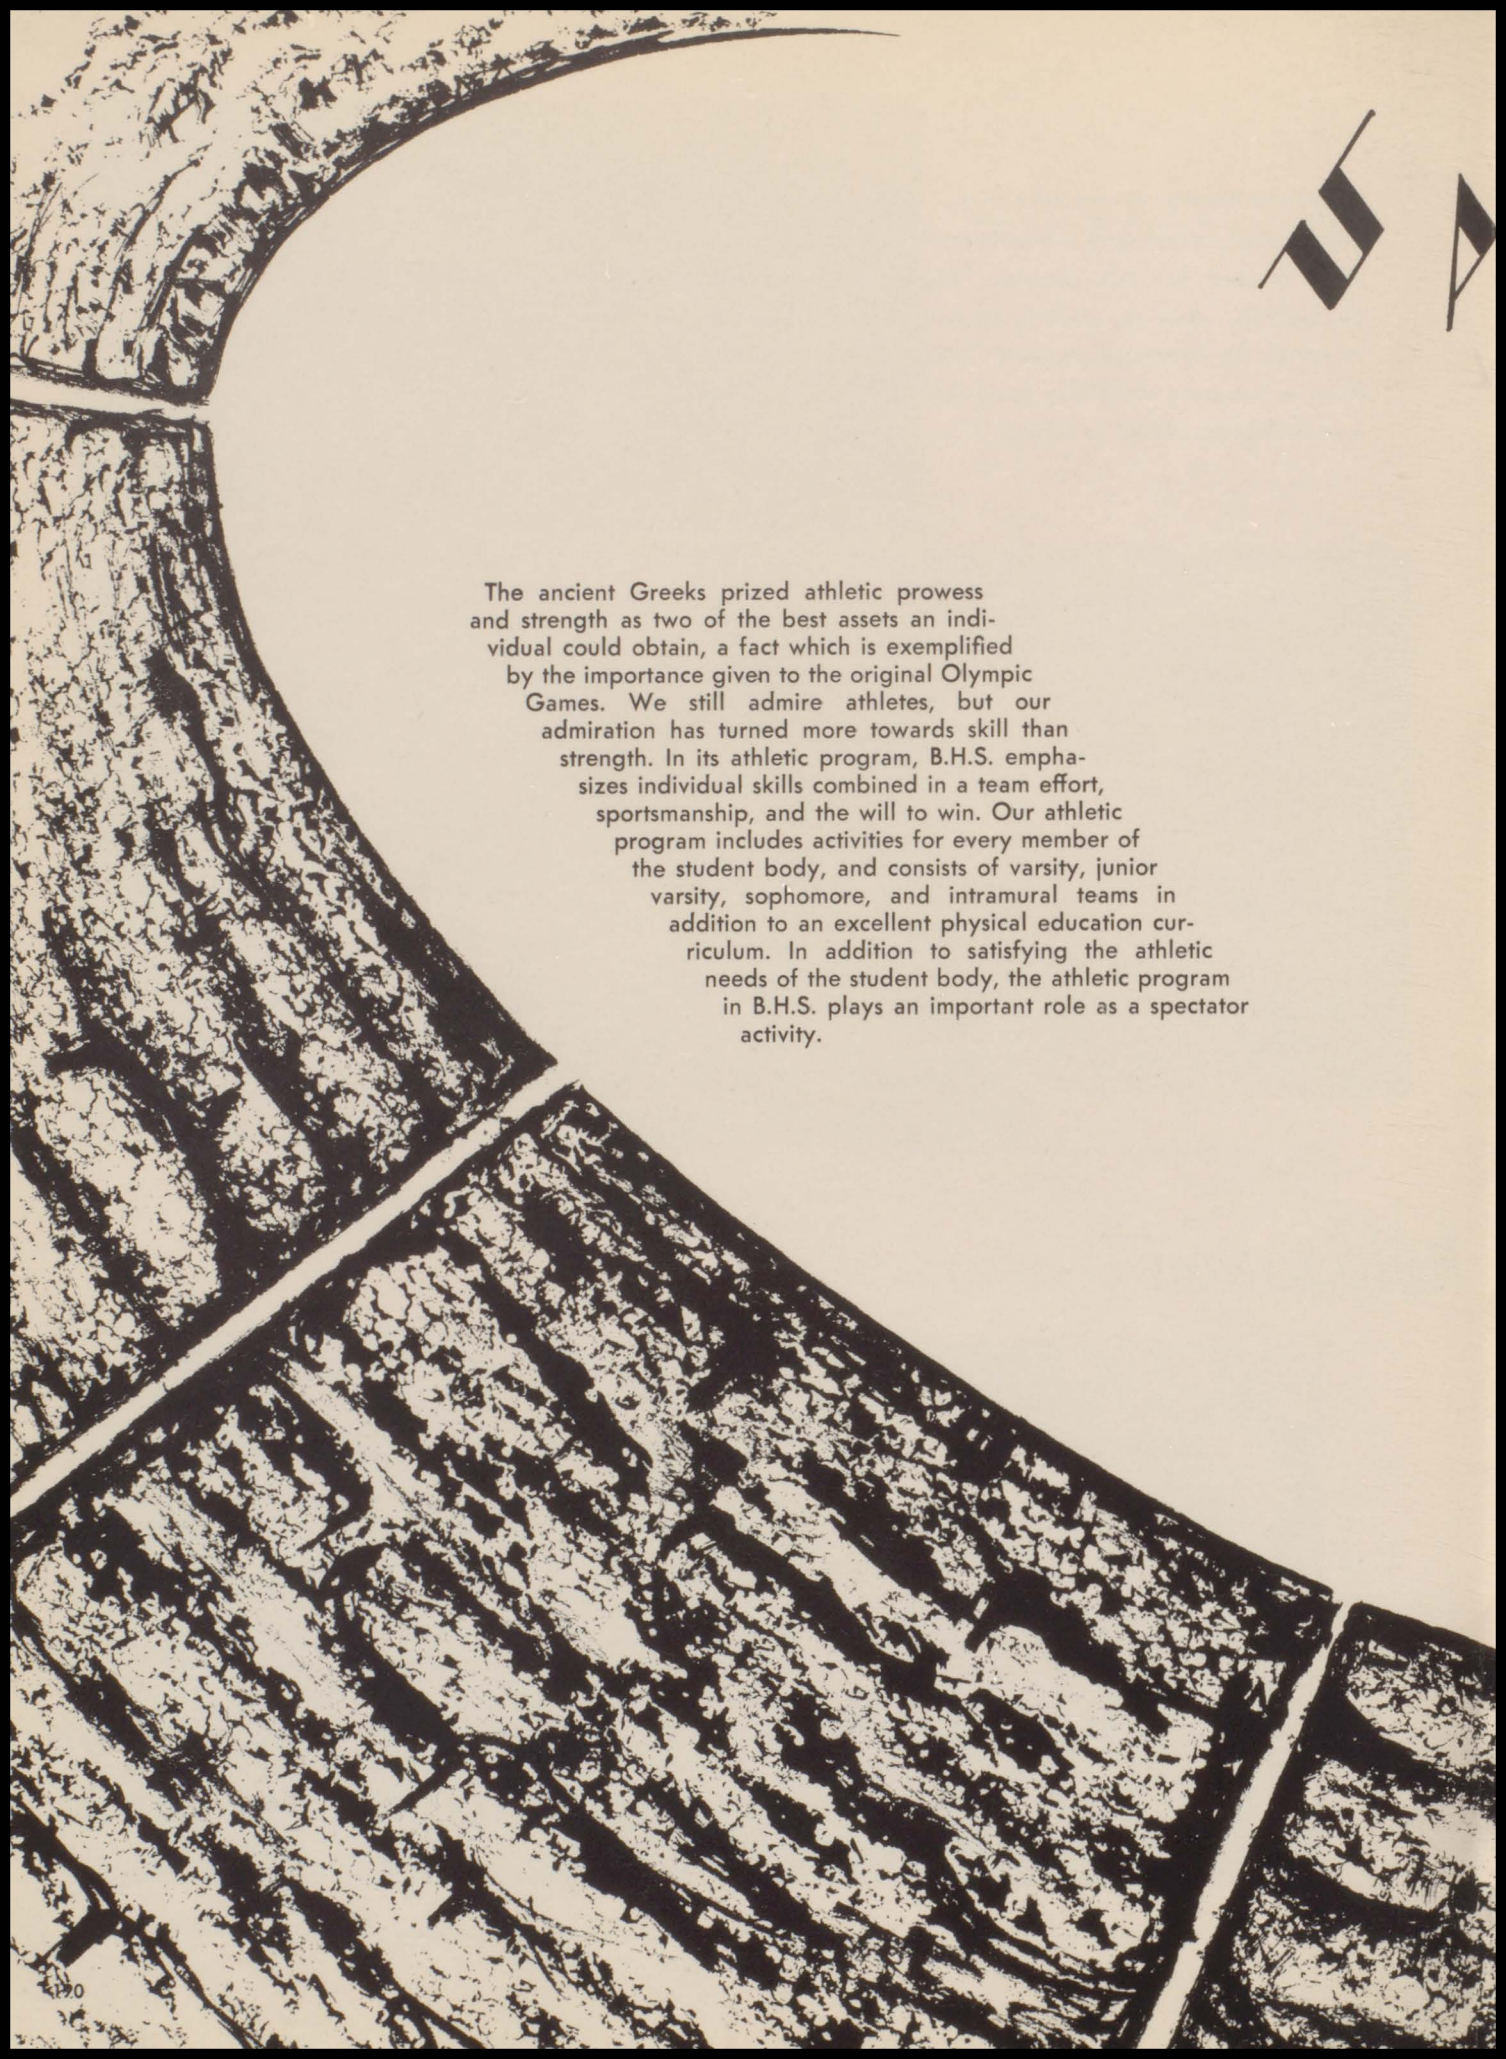

MATH CLUB: Mike Schaul, Helen Moy, and Leslie Zenack investigate mathematical topics which are outside the normal classroom work.

Relaxation

LITERARY DISCUSSION GROUP of Robert Rosa, David Spahn, Louise LaGasse and Fred Grill discuss one of the great classics with Mr. Selcoe, the group advisor.

The ancient Greeks prized athletic prowess and strength as two of the best assets an individual could obtain, a fact which is exemplified by the importance given to the original Olympic Games. We still admire athletes, but our admiration has turned more towards skill than strength. In its athletic program, B.H.S. emphasizes individual skills combined in a team effort, sportsmanship, and the will to win. Our athletic program includes activities for every member of the student body, and consists of varsity, junior varsity, sophomore, and intramural teams in addition to an excellent physical education curriculum. In addition to satisfying the athletic needs of the student body, the athletic program in B.H.S. plays an important role as a spectator activity.

COACH FOLEY CREATES A LEGEND

Teacher Coached Teams At Bloomfield For 41 Years

William Foley, a legend among athletic coaches, dedicated forty-one years of his life to teaching and coaching the youth of Bloomfield until his retirement in March, 1956. Under Coach Foley's tutelage, Bloomfield High's athletic teams piled up amazing records. In recognition of this achievement, Foley Field, the B.H.S. athletic field, is named in his honor. Few teachers have done so much for so many as has Coach Foley.

My cordial greetings and good wishes to you on your birthday anniversary, which, I am told falls on the same day as does mine.

MARCHING BAND: Snappy red and gray uniforms and the famous "B" formation are familiar sights at half-time in Foley Field. Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Hartman and closely followed by our Bengal tiger, the band executes precision marching formations for the "glory of B.H.S."

FLAGWAVERS

An integral part of any school sports event, the Cheerleaders, Flagwavers, Twirlers and Color Guard spend many hours perfecting their various routines. Their original half-time programs are a highlight of many a football game. Always full of pep, these girls cheer the teams on to victory and encourage the student body to do likewise.

FOOTBALL STARTS THE SEASON

A 6-3 record gave the Bengal fans something to cheer about. In the first two games, while holding their opponents scoreless, they scored two touchdowns per game. The exciting Clifton game saw B.H.S. pull ahead in the last few minutes to win the game by one point. Eastside Paterson, Nutley and Montclair defeated our team; but Kearny, West Orange and Irvington succumbed to Bloomfield's gridders. Winning, excitement and good football filled the 1960 season.

GIRLS COMPETE

ARCHERY TEAM: Under the supervision of Miss McKenzie, these archers aimed for high scores in competition.

GIRLS' HOCKEY CLUB: In the fall, Miss Garofalo taught the girls how to play hockey safely.

GIRLS' SWIMMING CLUB: Mrs. Beaver taught the girls water safety and advanced swimming techniques.

MODERN DANCE CLUB: Club members interpret their understanding of music through dance.

IN SPORTS

B.H.S. offered a variety of after-school athletic clubs for girls. The purpose of these organizations was to provide enjoyment along with skill in certain fields of sports. Many girls turned out for each group throughout the year, making for stiff and exciting tournaments.

GIRLS' GYMNASTIC CLUB: The lassies in the Gymnastic Club tried their skills at building human pyramids.

GIRLS' BOWLING CLUB: These Bengalette keg-lers bowl in teams of five to gain tournament championships.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL CLUB: Stiff competition and keen rivalry made for excitement in the girls' intramural basketball tournament.

June, 1961

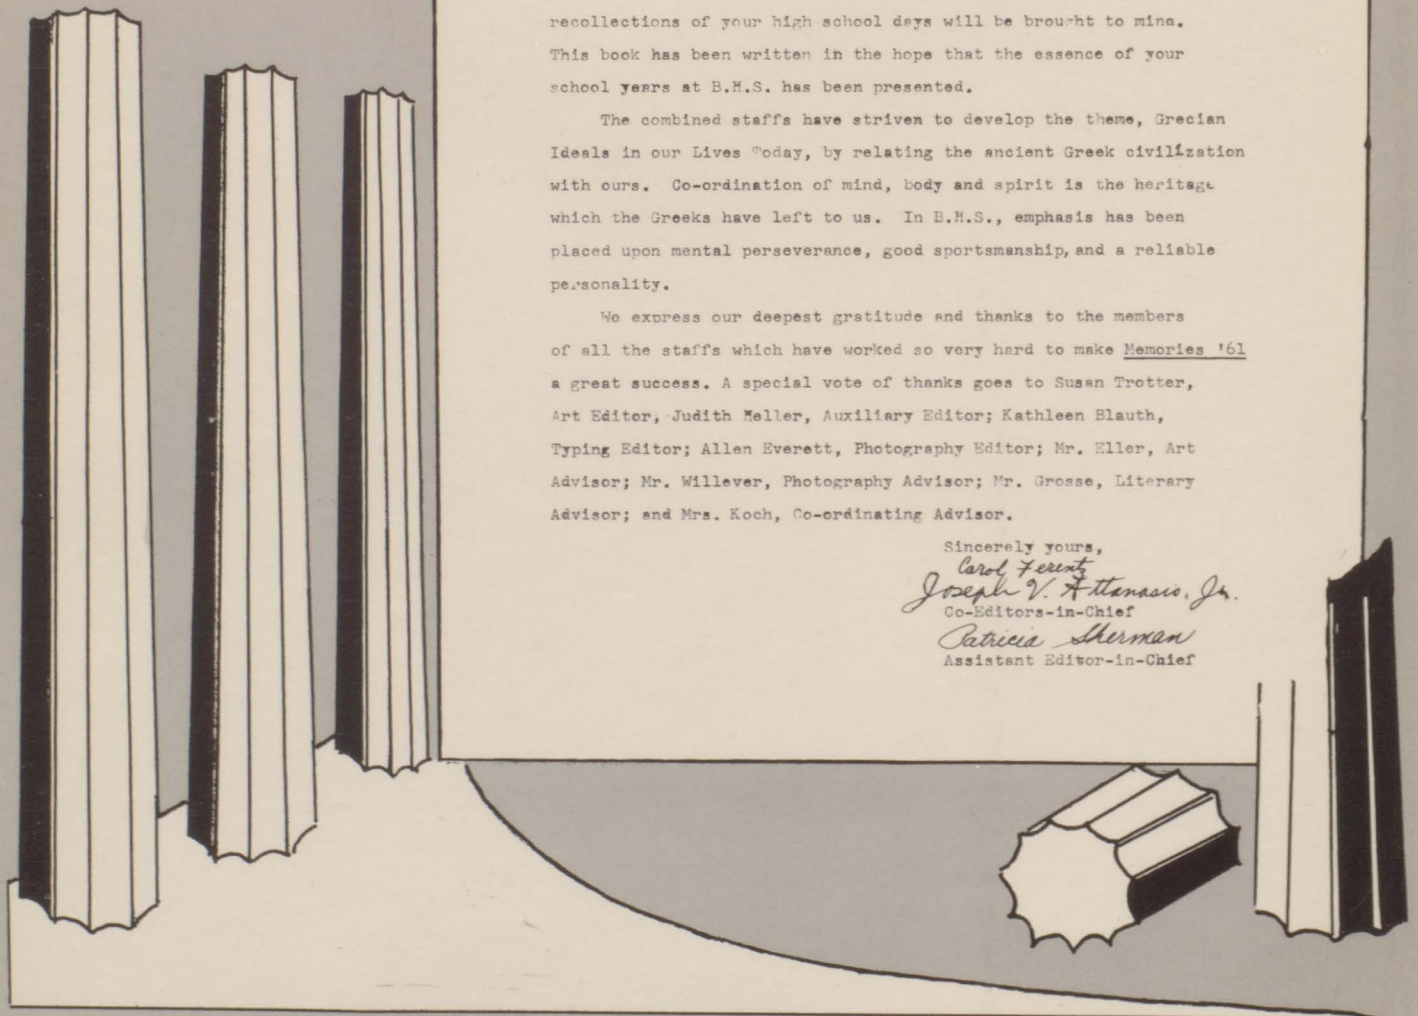

To the Class of 1961:

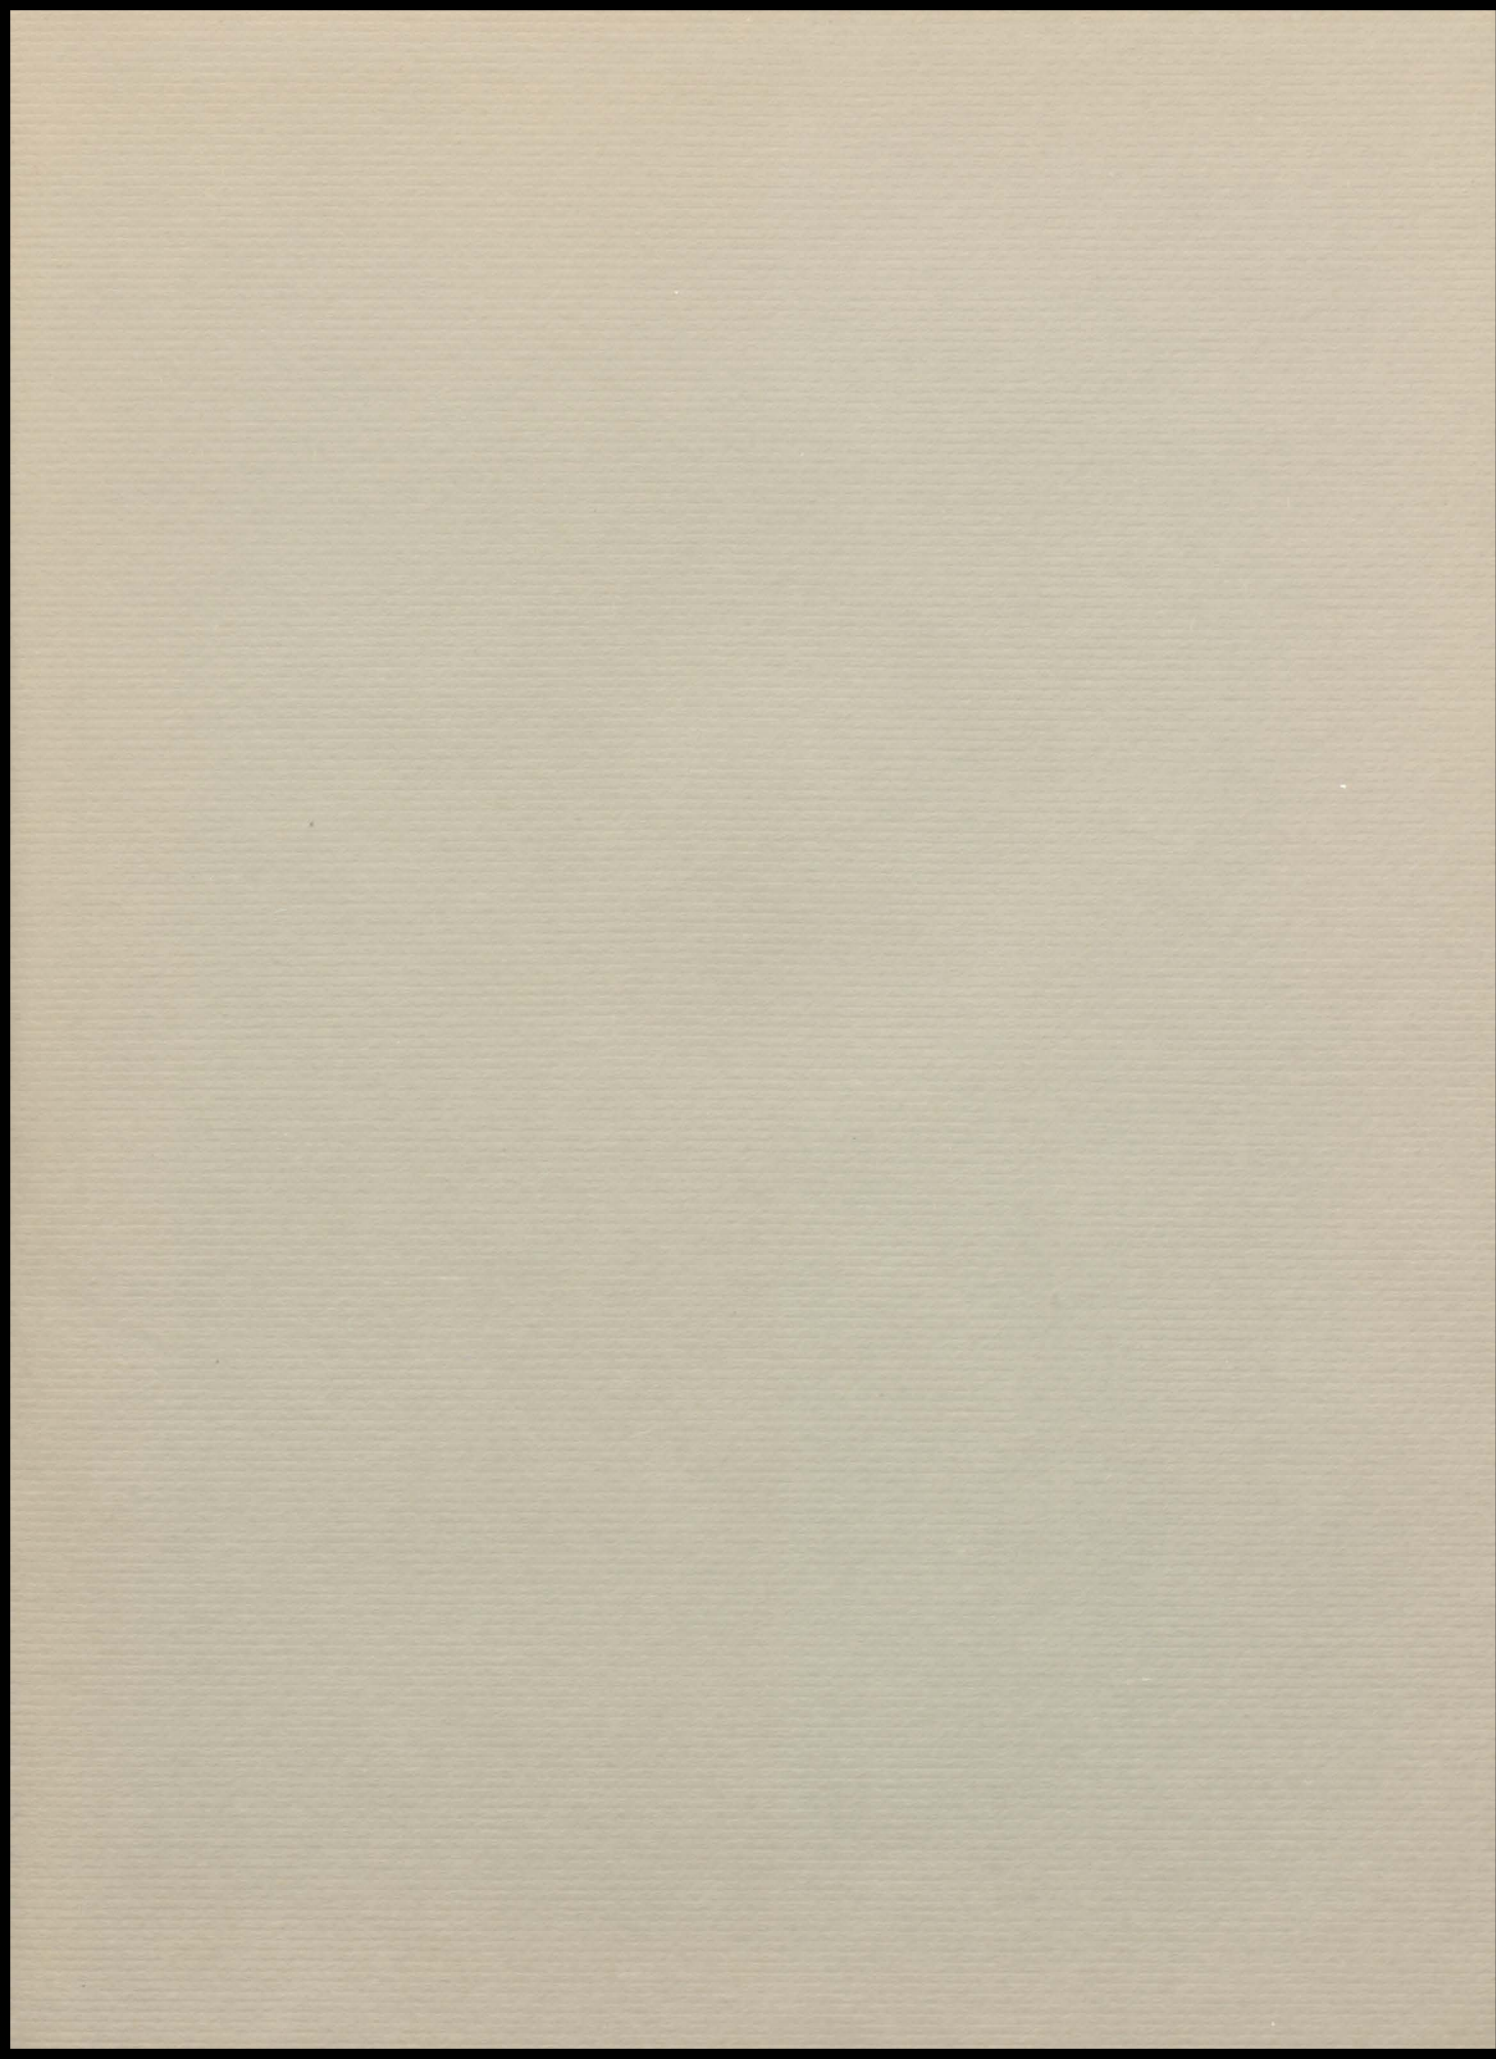

As you leaf through the pages of this yearbook, many fond recollections of your high school days will be brought to mind. This book has been written in the hope that the essence of your school years at B.H.S. has been presented.

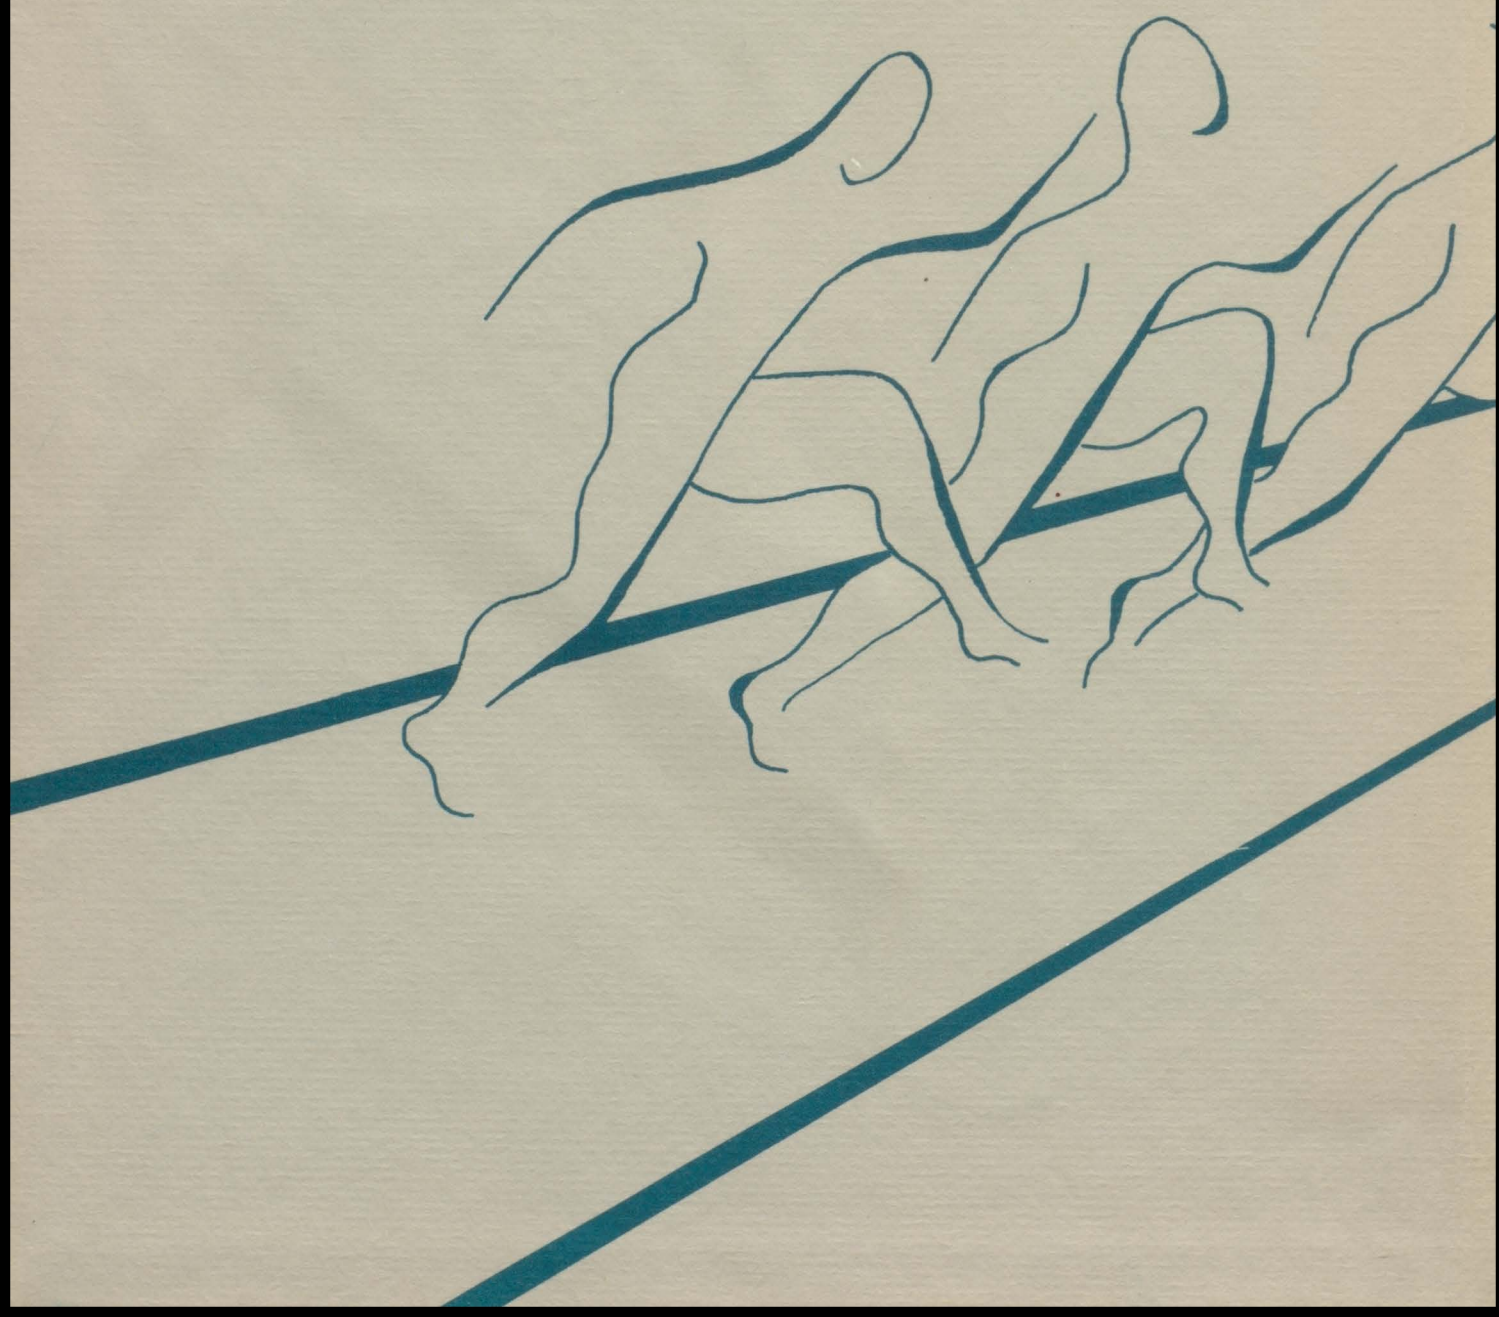

The combined staffs have striven to develop the theme, Grecian Ideals in our Lives Today, by relating the ancient Greek civilization with ours. Co-ordination of mind, body and spirit is the heritage which the Greeks have left to us. In B.H.S., emphasis has been placed upon mental perseverance, good sportsmanship, and a reliable personality.

We express our deepest gratitude and thanks to the members of all the staffs which have worked so very hard to make Memories '61 a great success. A special vote of thanks goes to Susan Trotter, Art Editor; Judith Meller, Auxiliary Editor; Kathleen Blauth, Typing Editor; Allen Everett, Photography Editor; Mr. Eller, Art Advisor; Mr. Willever, Photography Advisor; Mr. Grosse, Literary Advisor; and Mrs. Koch, Co-ordinating Advisor.

Sincerely yours,
Carol Ferentz
